Helvin shows off anti-ageing device (From Bury Times) - Windows Internet Explorer
http://www.burytimes.co.uk/uk_national_entertainment/3666021.Helvin_shows_off_anti_ageing_device/
File Edit View Favorites Tools Help
Helvin shows off anti-ageing device (From Bury Times)
Home Feeds (J) Print Page Tools

Bury Times

WEBSITE CHANGES
Welcome to our new-look website
Find out more »

YOUR BURY
GET IN TOUCH: TEXT YOUR MESSAGES TO 80360, START YOUR MESSAGE WITH BURY NEWS »

NATIONAL ENTERTAINMENT NEWS

Helvin shows off anti-ageing device

1:58pm Thursday 11th September 2008

© Press Association 2008

Veteran supermodel Marie Helvin turned back the clock to promote a new anti-ageing device.

The 58-year-old, who rose to fame in the 1970s after marrying fashion photographer David Bailey, appeared as a live window display at the Selfridges store in central London.

Perhaps put off by the rain, the screaming crowd that turned out to see Kate Moss make a similar appearance in an Oxford Street shop window last May failed to show up for Helvin.

Undaunted, she urged women to seek alternatives to surgery in the quest for eternal youth.

"We are constantly being driven to believe we need to look a set age or be a set size, whether it's the debate on size zero or the unrelenting pictures of youth in beauty and in fashion," she said.

"The worrying thing is this trend is driving people to take ever more dramatic and drastic invasive steps."

The new handheld device, called "stop", uses low-powered beams of electricity fired into the skin to reduce the appearance of wrinkles, according to the manufacturers.

"For the first time, non-invasive technology to reduce signs of ageing is literally in our hands and now we can renew our skin as easily as we renew our clothes," Helvin enthused.

PRINT ARTICLE » EMAIL TO A FRIEND »

Marie Helvin promoting a new anti-ageing device

IN THIS SECTION
- Sloth Hitchhiker book commissioned
- Shia LaBeouf's fame 'crazy and new'
- A little night music for President
- Tom Jones set to release new album
- Cheryl hints marriage back on track
- Sir Mick adds expertise to EU forum
- Soap's storyline sparks complaints
- O'Neal and son held in drugs check
- Mirren returns to National Theatre

SHARE
What's this? »

ESSENTIAL LINKS
- Bury News
- Ramsbottom & Tottington News
- Prestwich & Whitefield News

SHAKERS NEWS
Sodje is enjoying life at the top
EFE Sodje is loving seeing Bury at the top end of League Two every time he switches on his television.

WHAT'S ON LIVE TRAVEL YourBury
Last updated 10:34 with 7 incidents
- Hempshaw Lane Stockport »
Road closed due to building fire at a commercial property
- A6 Wellington Road North Stockport »
Restrictions
- M60 Greater Manchester »
Slow traffic
- Flybe Manchester International Airport »
Flight BE7202 from Paris-CDG was due at 10:30, now expected at 11:15

FULL TRAFFIC REPORT »

HOT JOBS
- Head of Kindergarten Unit Walshaw, Bury
- Machine Operatives Bolton
- Clerical Typist Radcliffe
- Quality Inspectors x 3 Bury
- Telephone Sales Executives Bolton
- Practice Manager / Medical Secretary / Receptions Bolton

LOCAL ADVERTISERS

Morrisons Whitefield
We're the only supermarket with 100% British fresh beef, lamb and pork